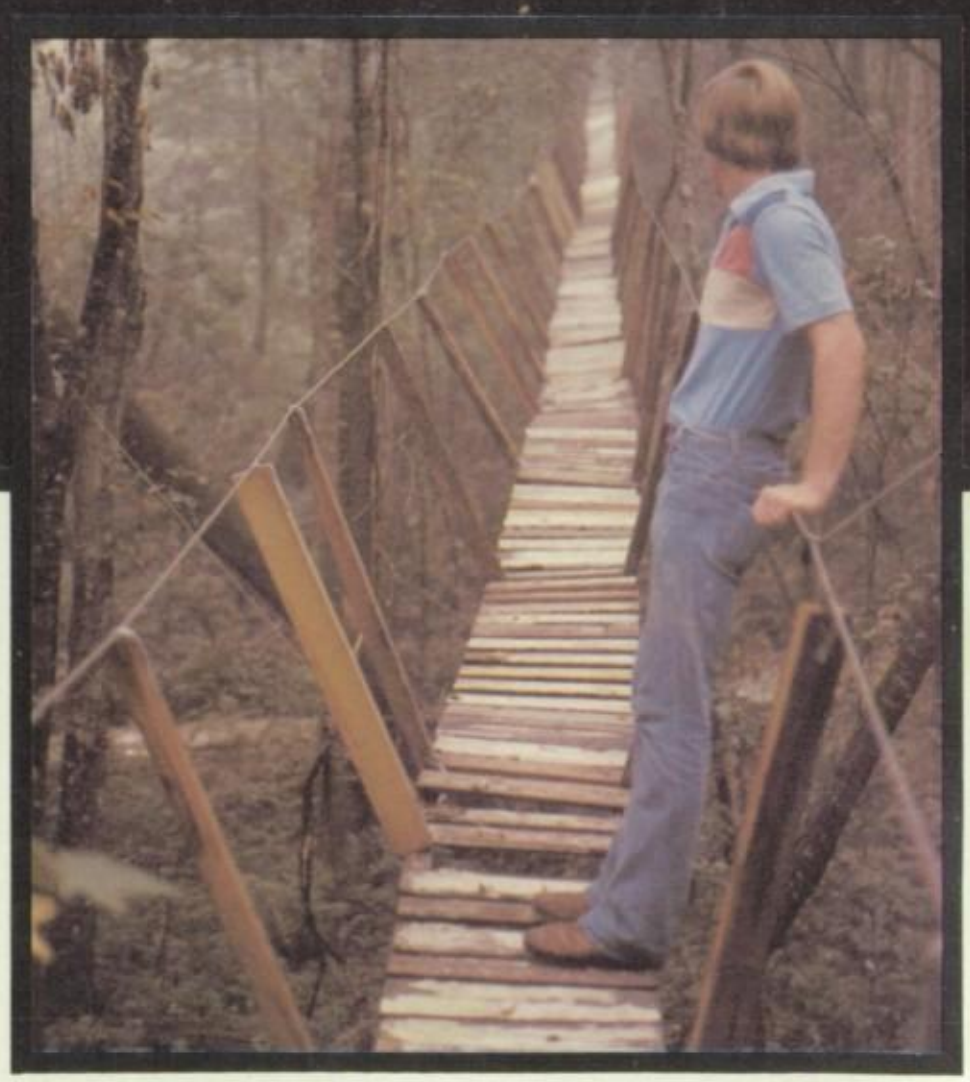
SPIRIT

RISE

1978 PIRATE



Pasco Comprehensive High School
1204 Highway 52
Dade City, Florida

Editor Fred Kilpatrick

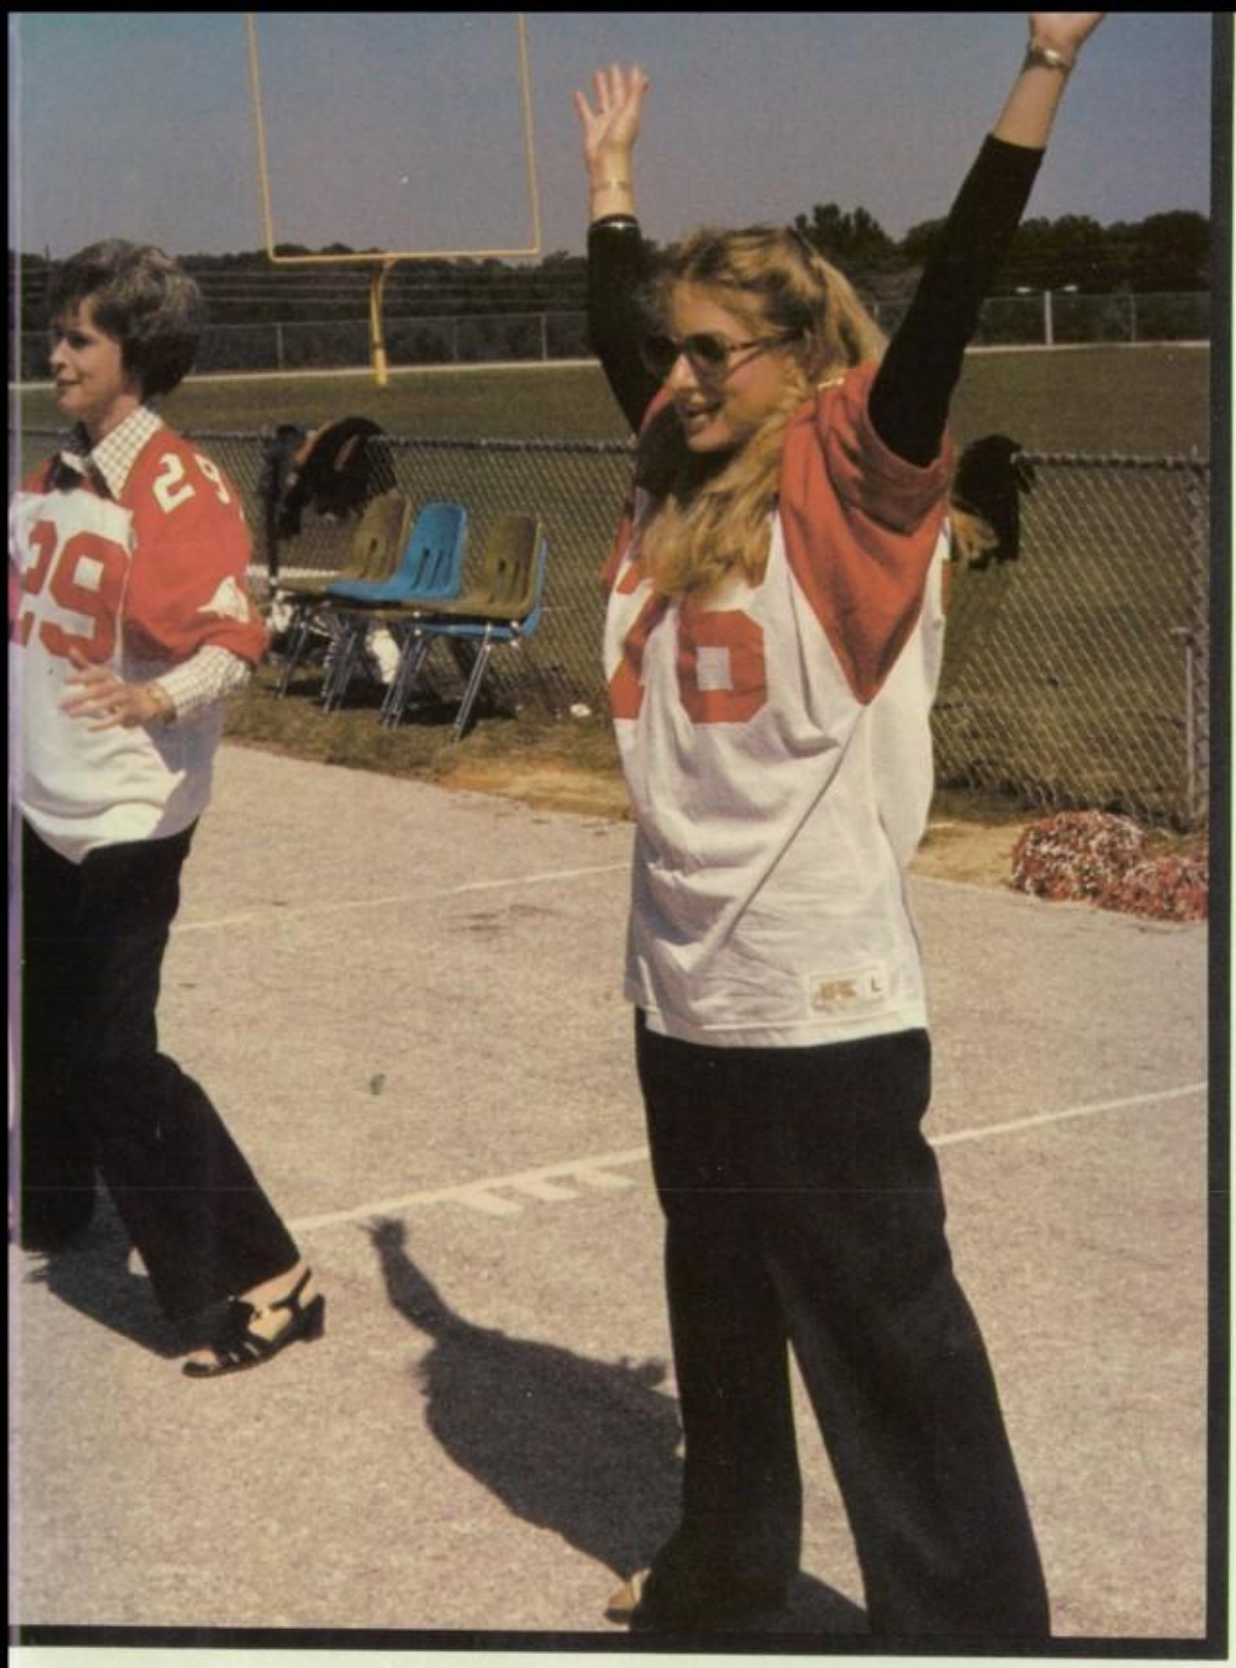
SPIRIT RISE

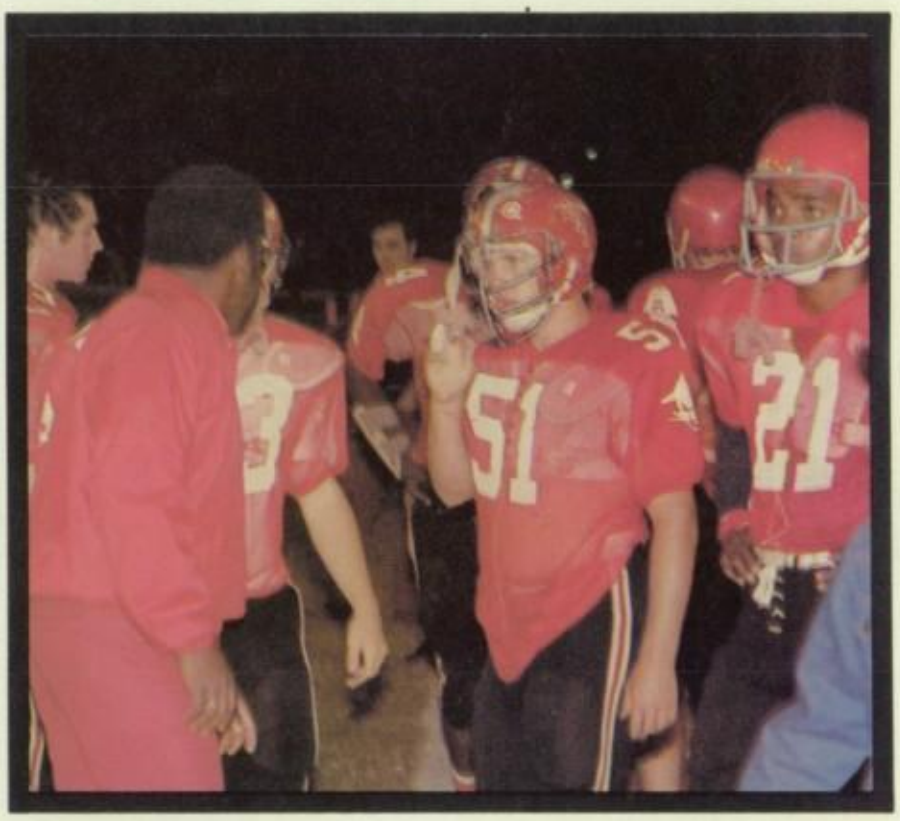


There exists a "something" within us all which makes our being important. Our life in school is a major portion of our existence. That intangible "something" which makes us smile, laugh or cry through these years at PCHS is known as

SPIRIT!

Spirit gets us high for the athletic matches and bolsters us when we are doing badly.

It keeps us going through threatening football games and drives us wild when victory is within reach.



Spirit is that catch in the throat when the Pirates run onto the field. It is that spontaneous smile when working with friends. Spirit is that determination created out of love for our school.

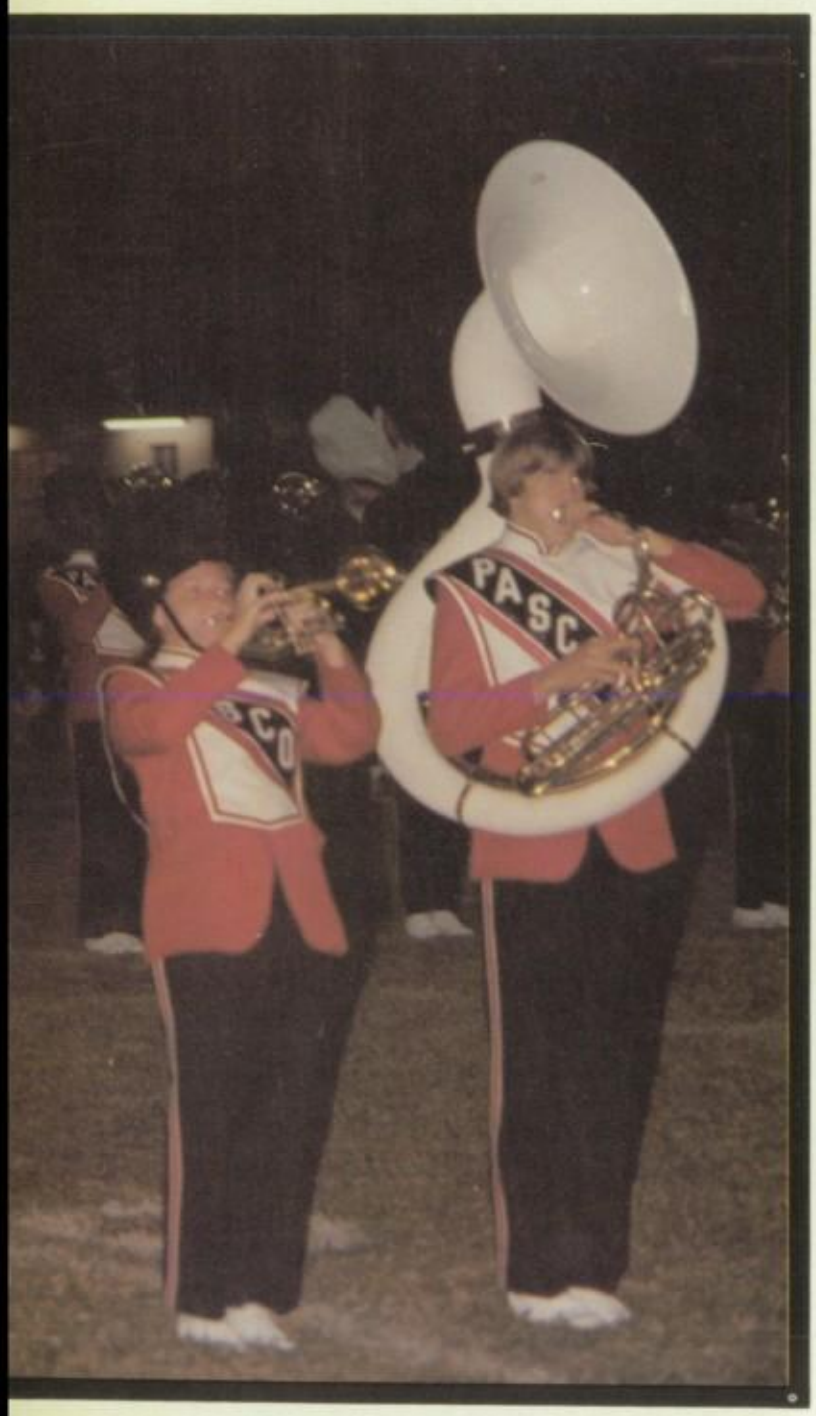
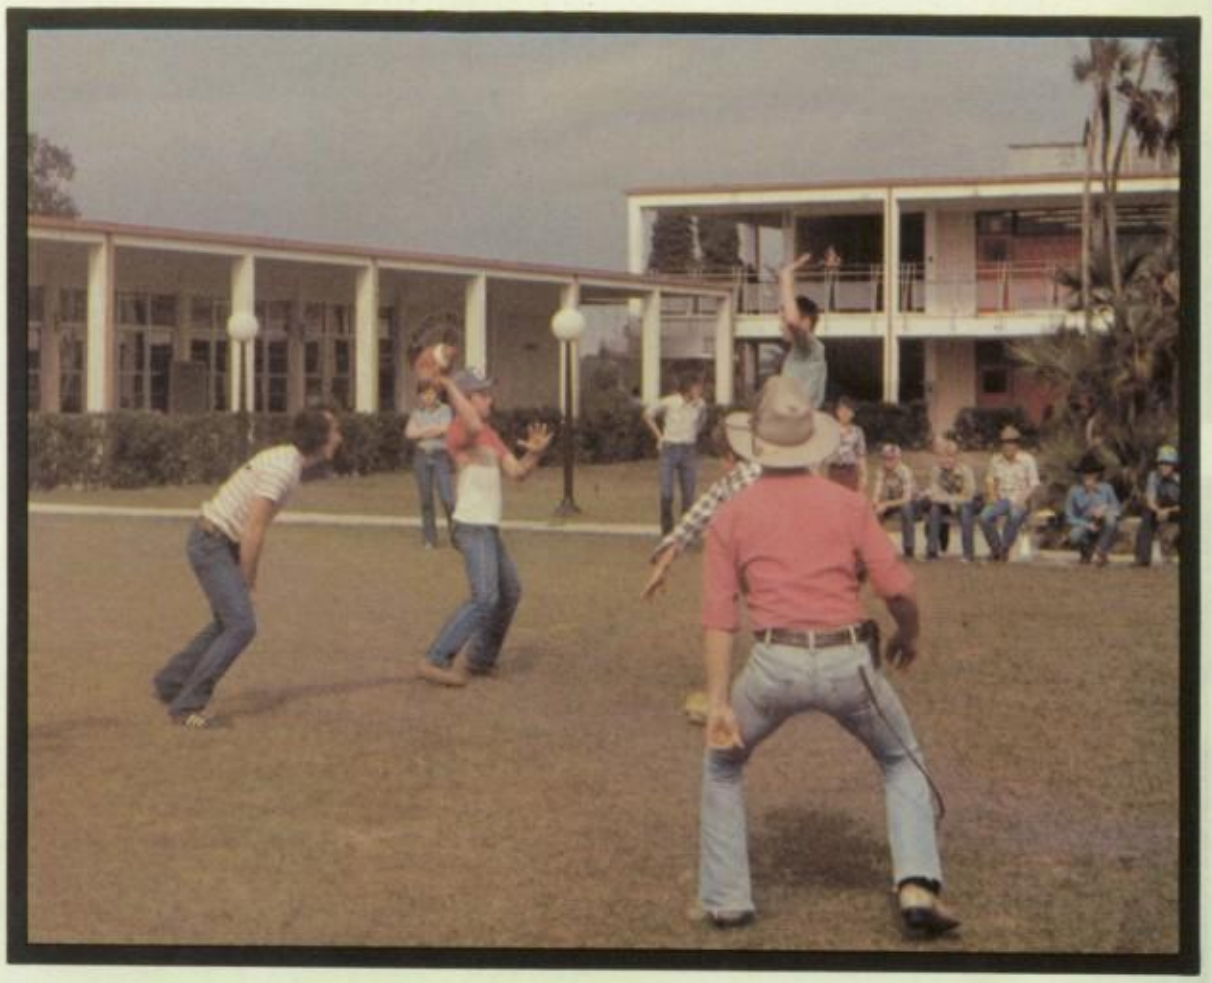
Greater DADE CITY
WELCOME

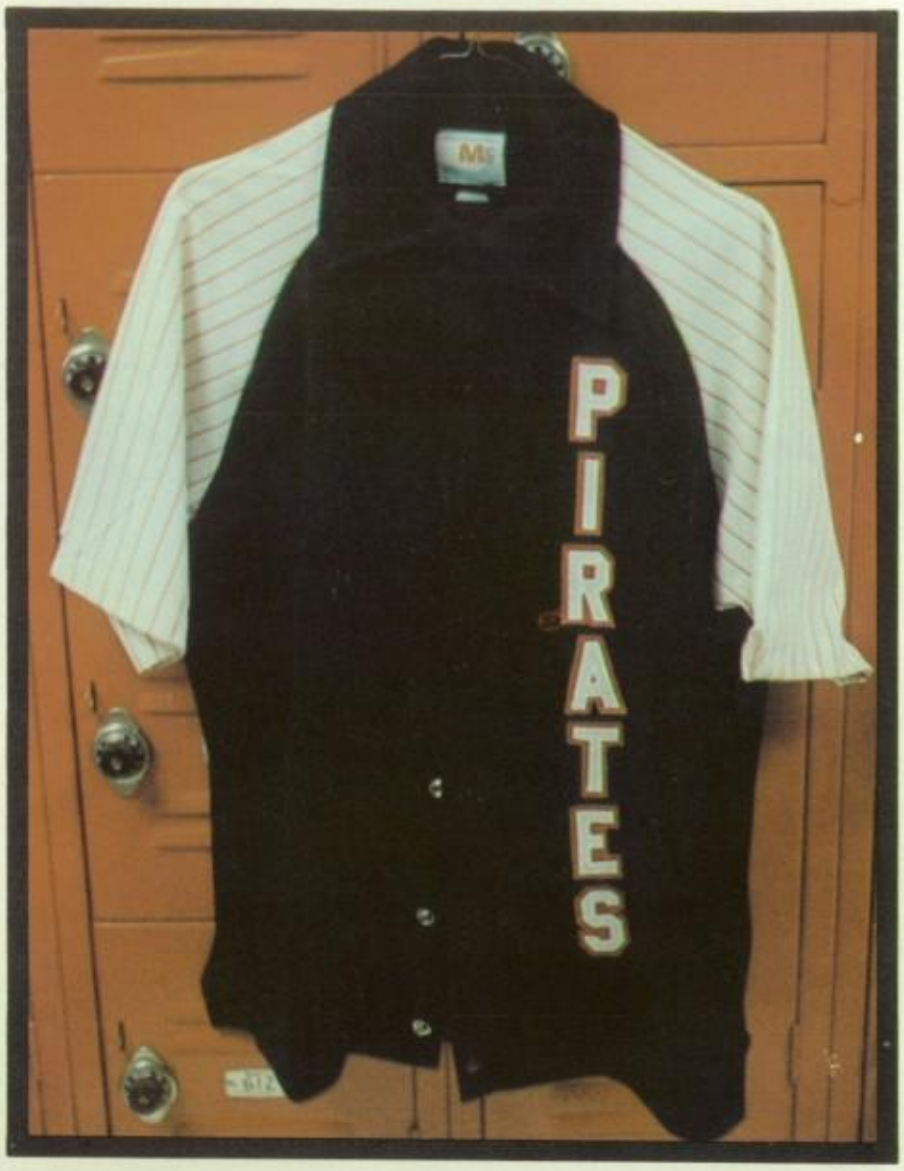


PASC



ON EARTH

Spirit is not reserved for those select few who are active participants in a game, club or function. Spirit is what ties us together and gives us school unity.



PIRATES

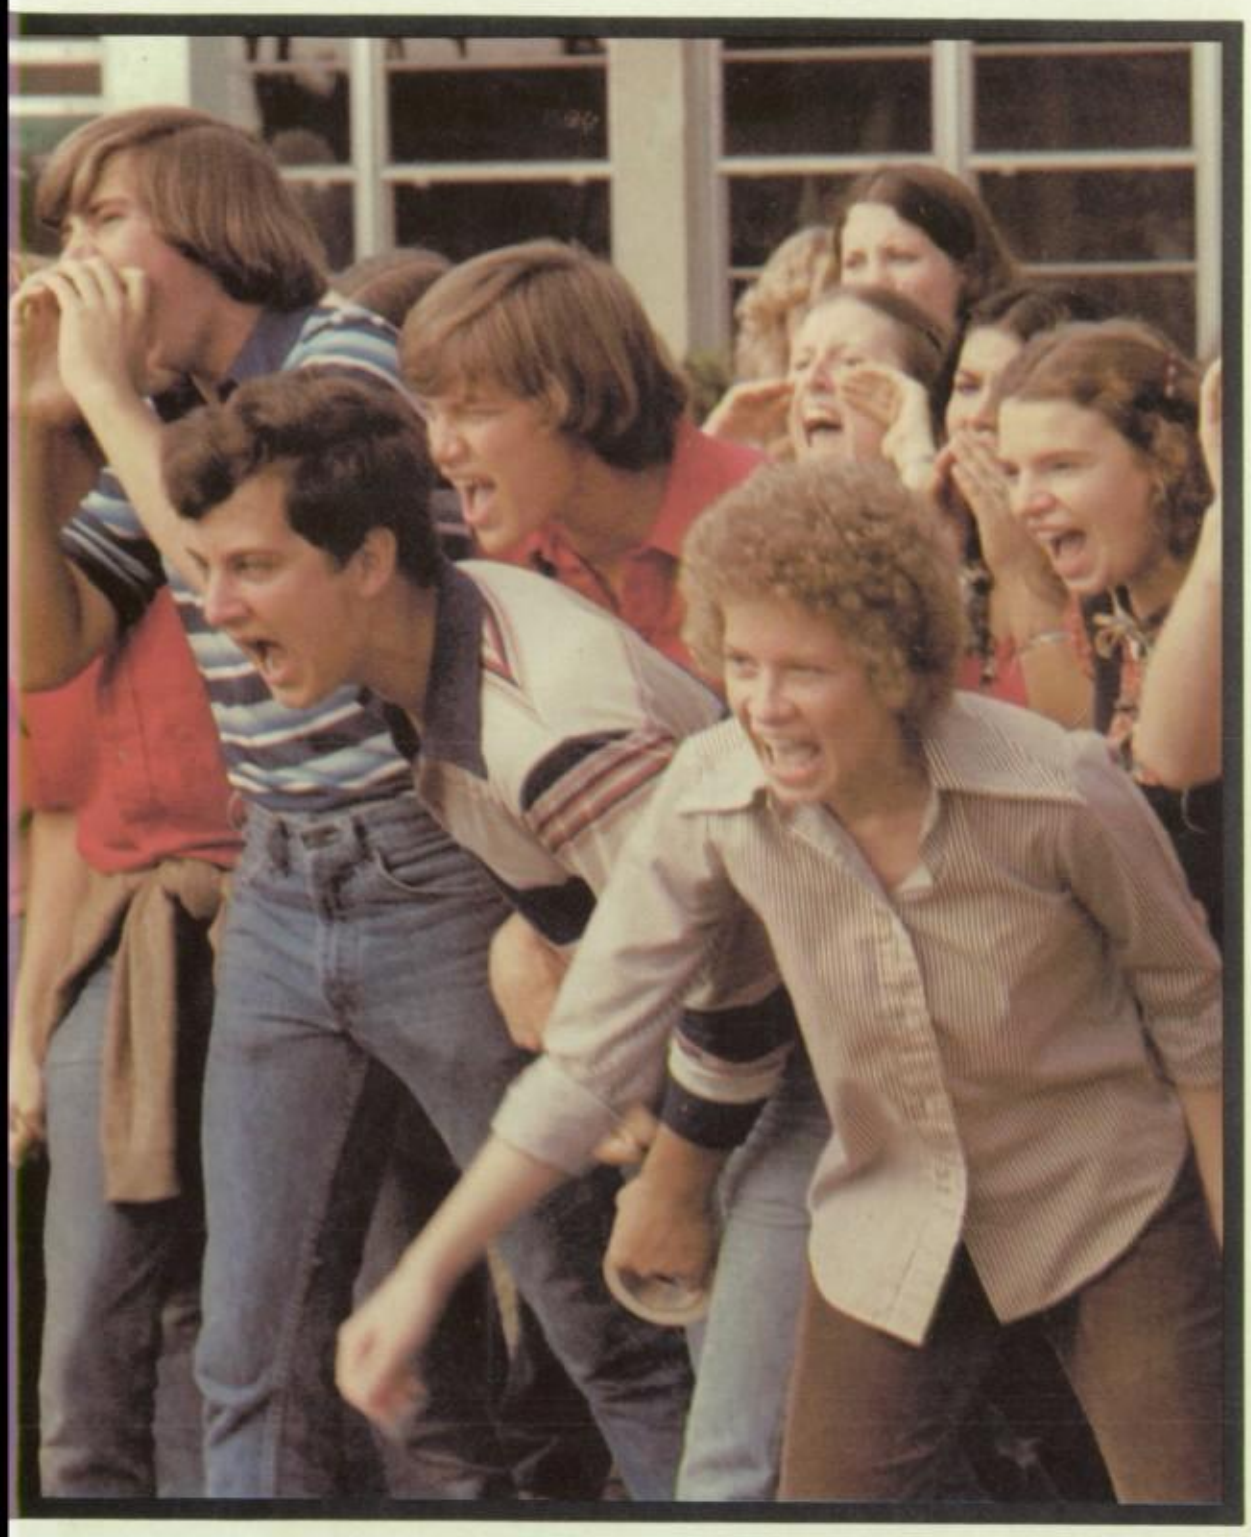
GO
Pirates

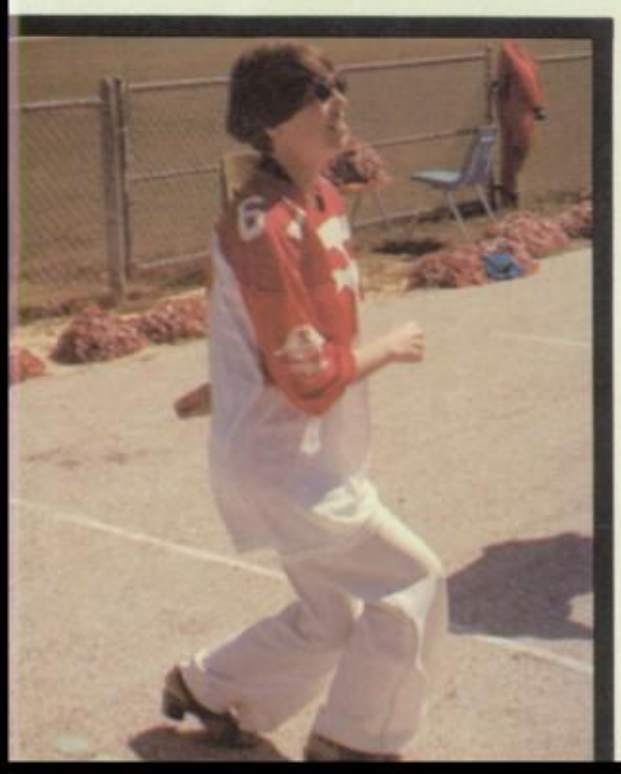
Spirit is what makes us proud of the name

Pirates

no matter where we may go.

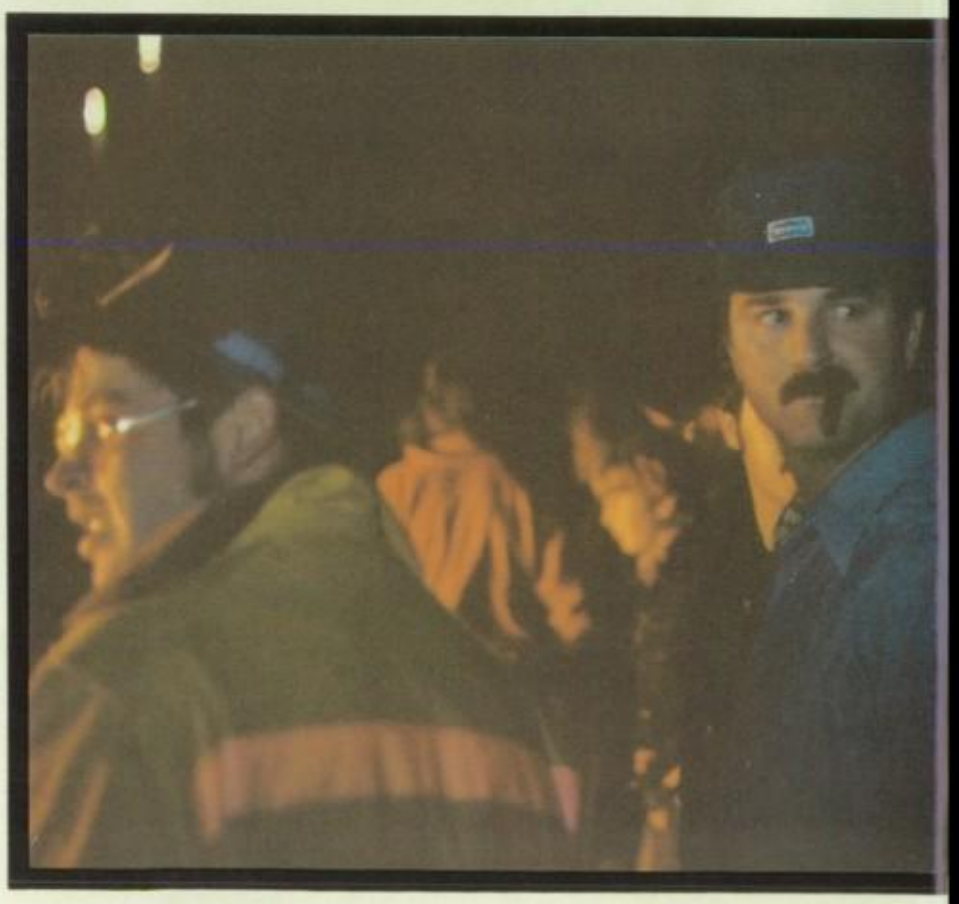
Our Spirit is not limited. You can't touch it, hold it or measure it. Yet, it is always there!

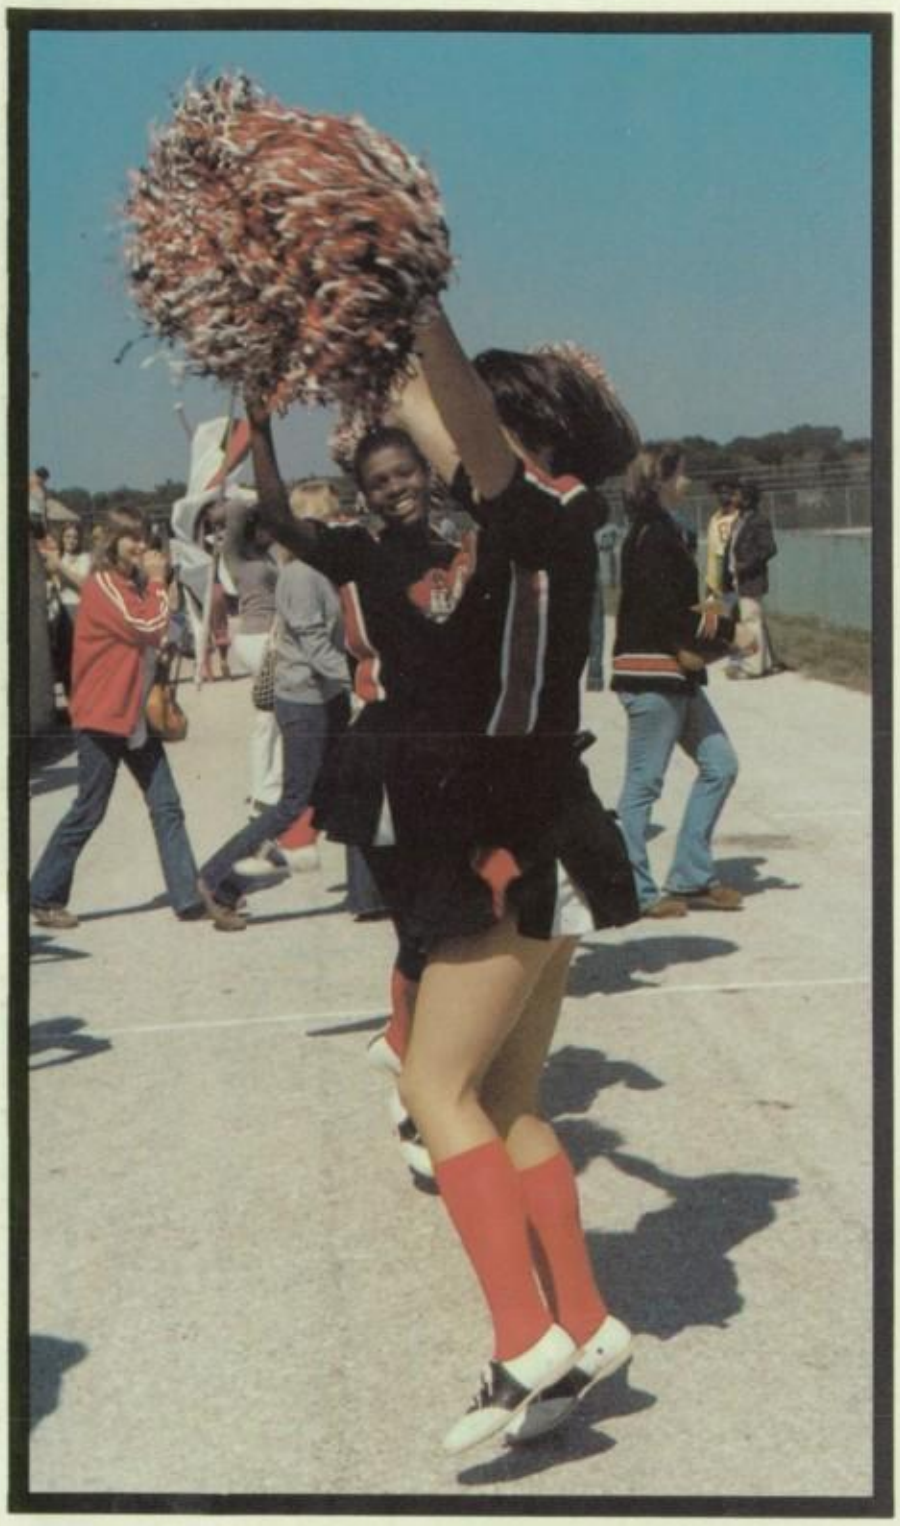




Spirit is that little spark in each one of us which makes us not just a student at Pasco High, but rather a living part of it.

Our Spirit is that urge to explore, to touch the unfamiliar. That is what we do best. It is all here, now and forever, captured in this volume — a flash of our continuous "Spirit on the Rise!"





Mrs. Martha Walker
The 1978 Pirate Dedication

The 1978 Pirate Staff and Senior Class dedicate this yearbook to Mrs. Martha Walker for her unique manner by which she expresses her concern for us all. Mrs. Walker, you have shown us "Real Spirit." Because of you, we all have been touched. You have given us a true spirit — a school spirit!

Spirit Organizers

Keith Piersall, Marcia Carver, Jacque Mahan, Tammie Adams, Kathy Jones, Karen Jeter, and Walter Elliotte.

Front — Treasurer: Kathy Jones, President: Haley Brock, VP: Tammie Adams, Sec.: Tricia Christensen.
Back — Mr. Mullins, Mrs. Freemen, Mrs. Jones, Mr. Dampier.

Who won the Spirit Stick more than any class ever? The Juniors! Who raised the largest sum of money at a Sadie Hawkins Dance? The Juniors! Yes, the Class of '79 has shown great leadership, confidence and school spirit. They have contributed many outstanding athletes, leaders and club members. Every school activity seems to be reflected in some way through this class. The class of '79 will long be remembered as a group who knew no bounds and accomplished much.

SOPHOMORES

Leaders of the Sophomore Class

Barry Swindle, Kelly Halstead, Laura Blessing, Patty Linville, Susan Carver, Betsey Hudson, Kim Watson, Randy Shelton.

President: Randy James, V-P: Joanne Barthle, Treasurer: James Cox.

The Sophomore year is hesitancy and expectancy, new friends and wider horizons, strange new ideas and different types of people. All of these and more describe the first year at PCHS.

As a whole, Sophomores are granted new freedoms. These freedoms should be taken advantage of without being abused. We sophomores should and can use them to better ourselves.

Without regard to race, religion and other common prejudices, we should funnel our talents and abilities into a field that attracts us.

Interesting at times, disappointing at other times, the first year at Pasco High symbolizes the end of childhood and the beginning of adulthood. The Sophomore Class must look to the future, in PCHS and beyond.

STAFF

TJ
PASCO

Just over seventy years ago a few students produced the first yearbook for Pasco High School and they called it an "annual." Subsequently, Pasco High students have produced yearbooks for almost three-quarters of a century.

It is for the above reasons, that I consider it a distinct honor to record a few comments in and about the 1978 PIRATE. Most importantly, however, is the remarkably fine job the yearbook staff has done during this school year in successfully presenting this book to you. I think the optimistic theme that surrounds the 1978 PIRATE will impress the parents, teachers, friends and students who read this yearbook.

Administration

1 and 2) Wayne C. Malone; Principal.
3) Larry McCraney; Director of Instruction.
4) Christine Israel; Bookkeeper.
5) Michael Rom; Assistant Principal.

Dr. Malone presents his annual speech at the N.H.S. induction ceremony.

Moreover, the wonderful spirit demonstrated by our staff and students did indeed "rise" during the 1977-1978 school year. Few of us who experienced this year at Pasco High would doubt that we had anything other than an outstanding and worthwhile year. The spirit, particularly among our students, that prevailed throughout our school was THE contributing factor to a most prosperous and "special" year.

It is usually the ambition of a yearbook staff to successfully record and present the "story" of "their" school as related to all of the people and students who are associated with the school for one given year. The task of the yearbook staff was to communicate to the readers the Pasco High story during the 1977-1978 school year. Communication involves the art of conveying ideas with words and pictures.

The staff has succeeded in achieving this task and the result is an exceptionally fine and orginal yearbook.

Sincerely yours,

Wayne C. Malone, Ed. D.
Principal

Mr. McCraney gazes into the distance while he tries to find a solution to the problem.

Mrs. Israel is known as the "friendly bookkeeper."

Mr. Rom is always trying to recapture his early childhood.

"A student actively involved in all areas of school life such as academics, athletics, clubs, etc. is a student who illustrates school spirit."

1) June Phillips; Principal's Secretary.
2) Jean Cunningham; Attendance Clerk. Linda Chisenhall; Secretary.
3) Charolette Crumb; Secretary.
4) Linda Thomas; Clinic Aide.
5) Lillian Keen; Guidance.
6) William Reynolds; Guidance.
7) Norma Meadows; Secretary.
8) James Auten; Occupational Specialist.
9) Terry Hurd; Secretary.

Mrs. Phillips receives an important call for Dr. Malone.

Mrs. Crumb greets Mr. Auten in the main office.

Mrs. Chisenhall and Mrs. Cunningham anxiously await for the wild excuses they will receive today.

Mrs. Thomas anxiously awaits the next bomb threat.

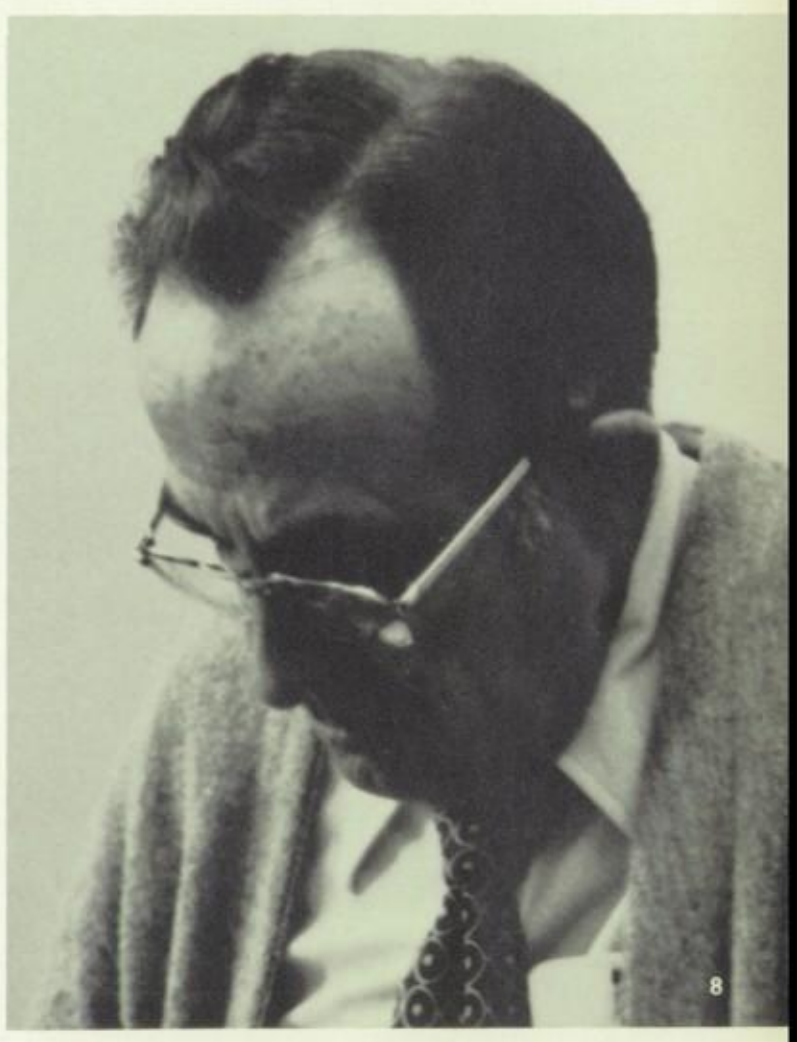
"To me, a student who embodies school spirit is one who becomes active in the process of their own education, both in the classroom and in the various endeavors."

William Reynolds

"A student illustrates school spirit by participation in activities sponsored in their benefit."

James Auten

Mrs. Keen explains the matter to Fred Carmany.



Mr. Auten reviews the schedule for the guidance films.

Mr. Reynolds takes a brief moment to relax.

Norma Meadows always wears a smile.

Terry Hurd re-types the students' schedules for next year.

"I believe there are many ways in which a student can and should show school spirit. It is much more than attendance at athletic functions. It should include support of all student activities as well as a desire to achieve the highest academic standards possible. A student shows school spirit by having pride in himself and his school which reflect in his behavior at school and in the community."

Martha Thomas

"Spirit is exhibited by leadership or participation in the great variety of activities sponsored by the school. School spirit doesn't have to be flashy and loud, nor does it exist just because a person is a member of numerous activities."

Mr. Connell is anxiously waiting for his coffee to arrive.

Ms. Thomas smiles as a good test question enters her mind.

Mr. Bradley locates Southeast Asia on the map.

"Students show spirit by being in the band, of course!"

Preston Pate

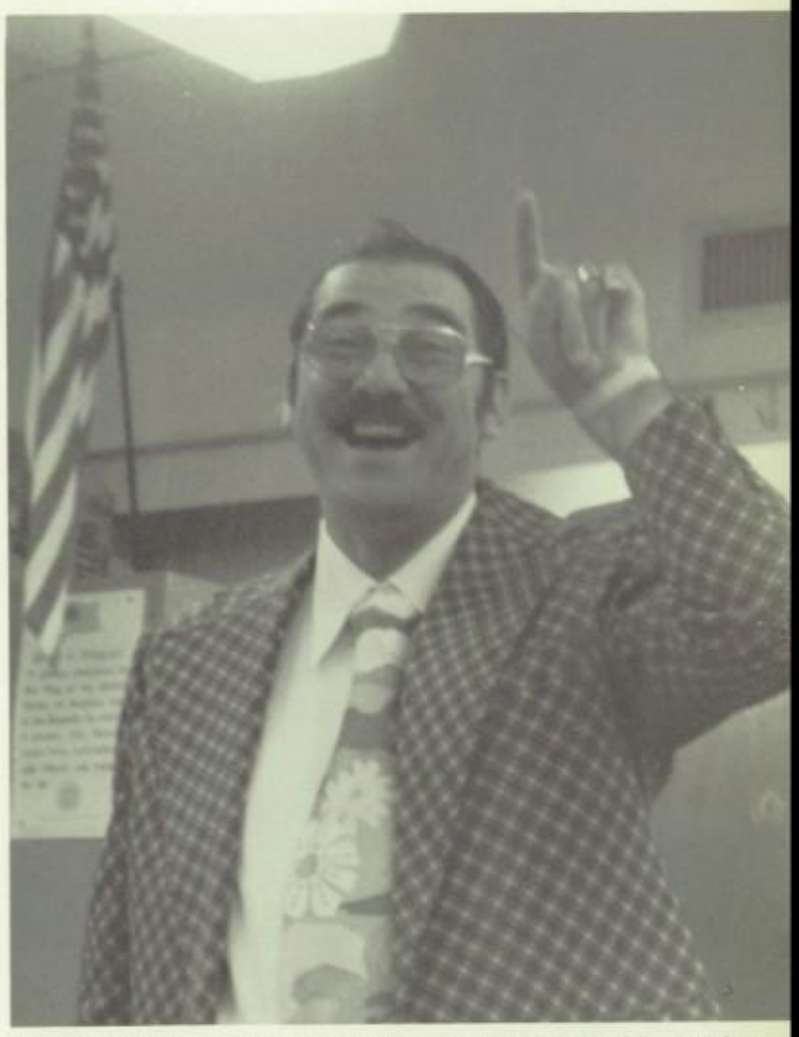
"A student who illustrates true school spirit is one who participates in extra-curricular activities and is always willing to contribute their abilities. When not participating in a sport, they are most encouraging to others, win or lose."

John Dampier

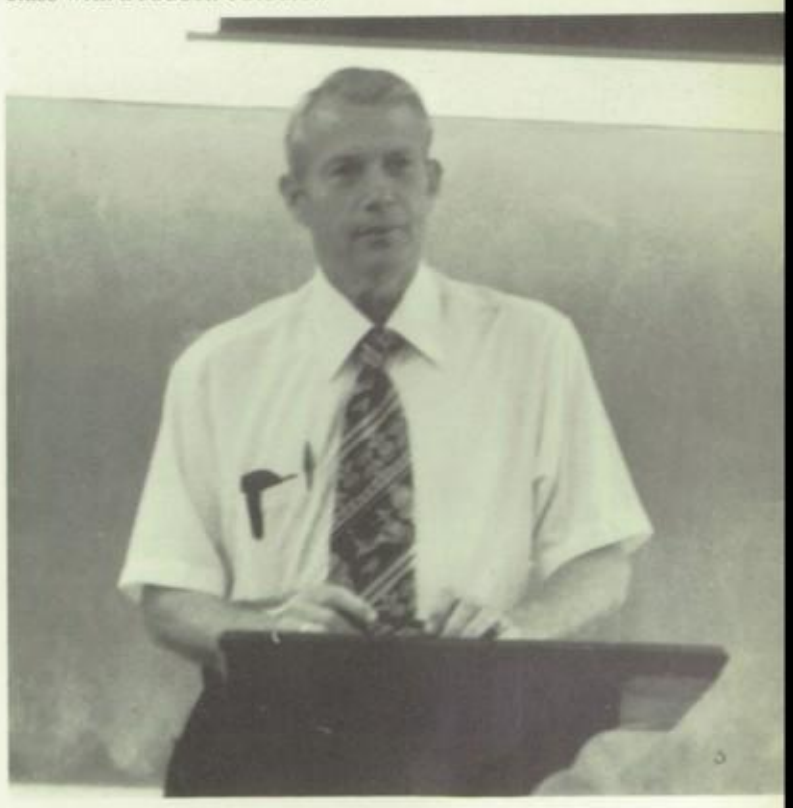
"I see school spirit illustrated in discards of drink cans, tobacco 'Chaws' and spit, paper, and writing on the buildings. One 'why' is due to a lack of environmental pride."

James Taylor

The band's marching is not the only thing Mr. Pate times with precision.



Mr. Dampier, known for his wild ties, tries to awaken his morning class with a sudden outburst.



Mr. Taylor always begins his class with a smile.

"A student exhibits school spirit by taking pride in his school and himself. School spirit involves more than 'cheering' at pep rallies and games."

Lee Freeman

"The test of true school spirit is not only measured by our cheers for a winning team, but also by the support we show to a team experiencing a slump."

Cheryl Conn

"I feel that the best way a student could illustrate school spirit is to recognize and praise any task done well by any fellow student, faculty member or staff."

Scott Johnson

Mrs. Freeman is overwhelmed to be Junior Class Sponsor.

Mrs. Conn must study for her classes also.

Mrs. Tombrink's winning smile is welcomed.

This must have been one of Mr. Johnson's better days.

Language Arts, IMC, Foreign Language

2) Louise Tombrink; Language Arts.
3) Cheryl Conn; Communication Skills.
4) Scott Johnson; British Literature, American Literature, World Literature, Humanities, and Communication Skills.
5) Jud Hetrick; Language Arts, Media, Contemporary Literature, Composition, and Journalism.
6) Lisa Hobbs; IMC Secretary.
7) William Bohanan; IMC Director.
8) Patty Deutscher; French I and II, and Spanish I and II.

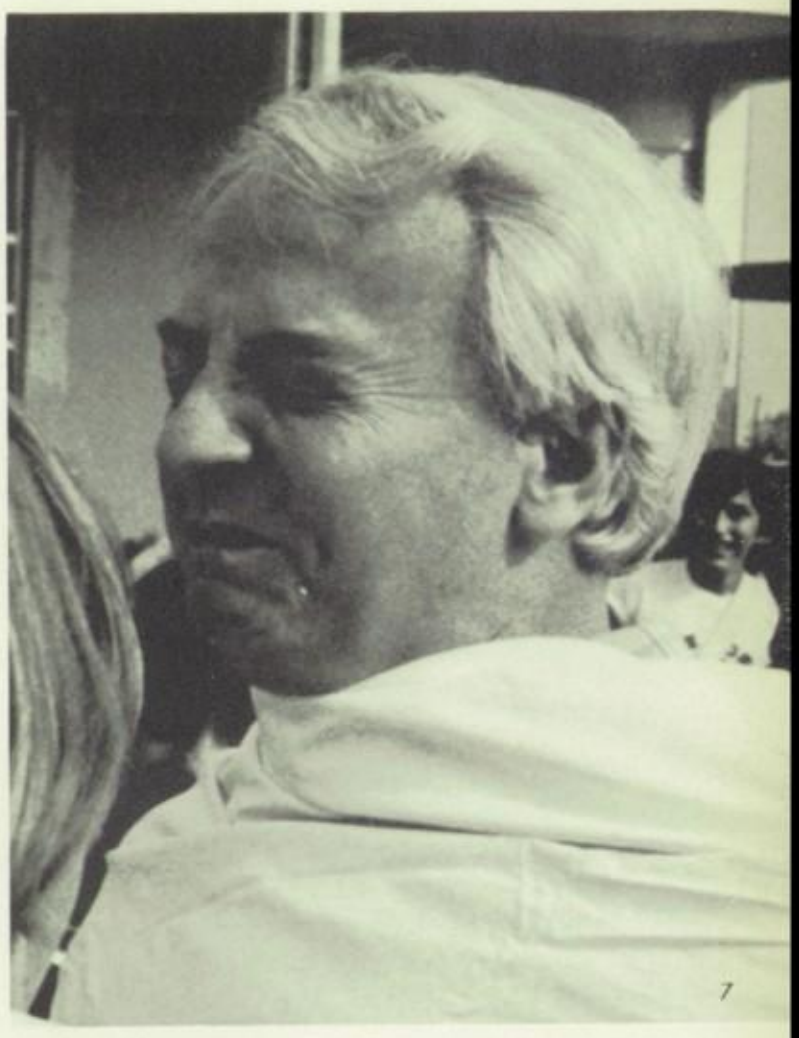
"A student illustrates good school spirit by maintaining his personal integrity, by exhibiting a constructive attitude, and by participating in at least some school activities."

Jud Hetrick

"By conducting himself/herself at all times in such a manner that all his/her actions will reflect credit to his/her school, home, and community a student shows spirit. To encourage others, especially fellow students, to develope a positive and helpful attitude, to participate in school activities, to help keep our campus litter free, and above all 'to thy own self be true'."

William Bohanan

Lisa Hobbs slowly sneaks into the IMC through the "OUT" door.



Mr. Bohanan prepares to eat a pie the hard way.

Mr. Hetrick keeps the score at one of the home track meets.

Patty Deutscher watches Lisa sneak into the IMC through the "OUT" door.

"School spirit is shown by the student's attitude toward his school, respect for school property and the appearance of the buildings and campus. A student who has school spirit will respect school property, make an effort to keep the campus beautiful, support school activities and show pride in his school."

Frank McCormick

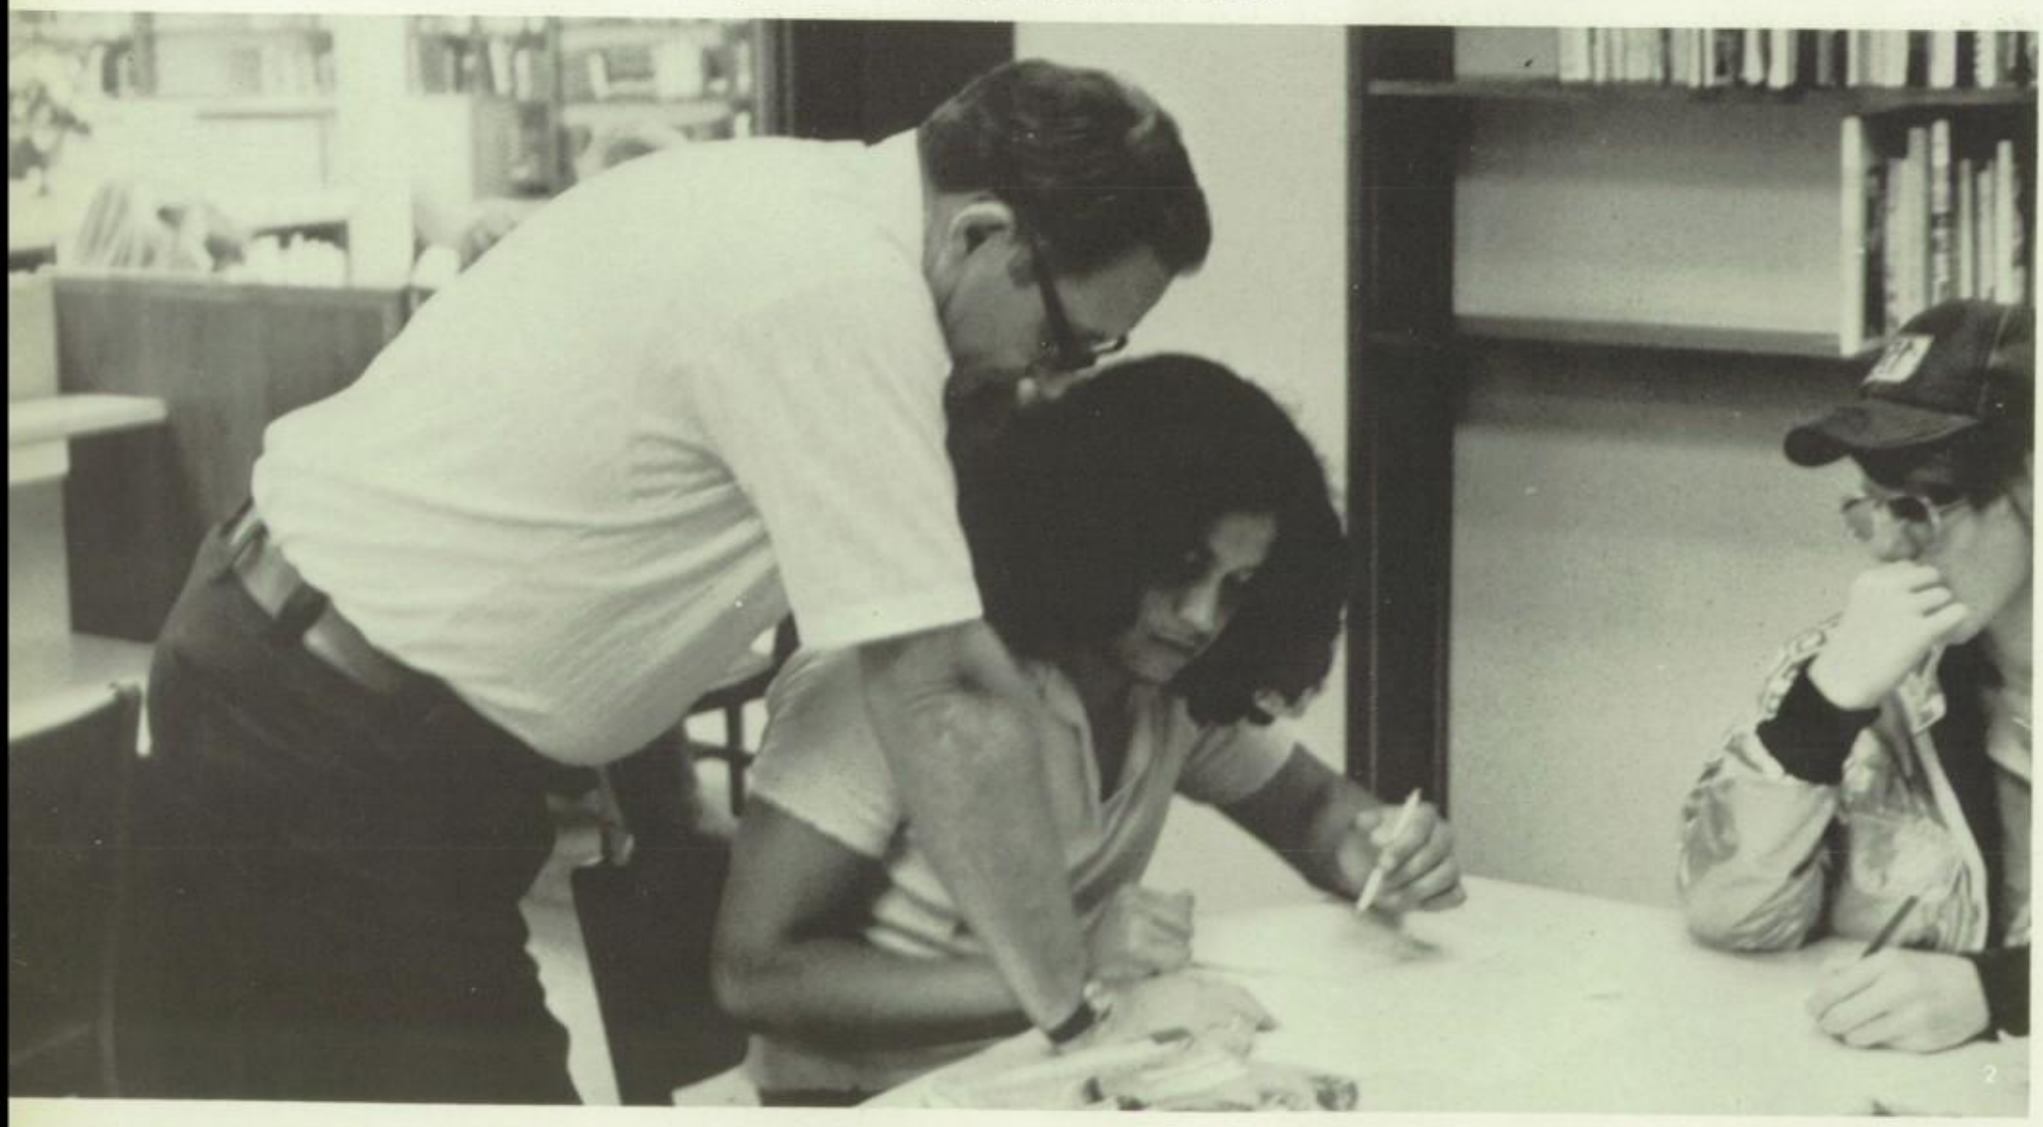
"A student illustrates school spirit by displaying an enthusiastic desire to learn, strives for well organized functioning clubs, demands good sportsmanship from students and enjoys champion athletes."

Elodee McCormick

Mrs. McCormick sits back and relaxes after figuring all of her students' points up to find their grade.

Science, Math

1) Elodee McCormick; General Science I and II, and Biology I.
2) Frank McCormick; General Math, and Algebra I.
3) Mary Hughes; General Science I and II, Chemistry, and Physics.
4) William LaCour; Algebra II, Trigonometry, Analytic Geometry, and Calculus.
5) Mildred Morohovich; General Science III and IV, and Biology I and II.
6) Margaret Jones; General Math, Plane Geometry, and Algebra I.



Mr. McCormick slowly and carefully explains the problem.

"A student who has school spirit is one who — is proud to be a student of P.C.H.S.; cheers and upholds their teams, win or lose; respects school property and helps keep it attractive; finds nice things about the school instead of complaining all the time; and is a happy, cheerful student."

Mildred Morohovich

"The true test of school spirit is the ability to enjoy all aspects of school life by seeing how knowledge acquired in the classroom helps one relate well to others in his extra-curricular activities."

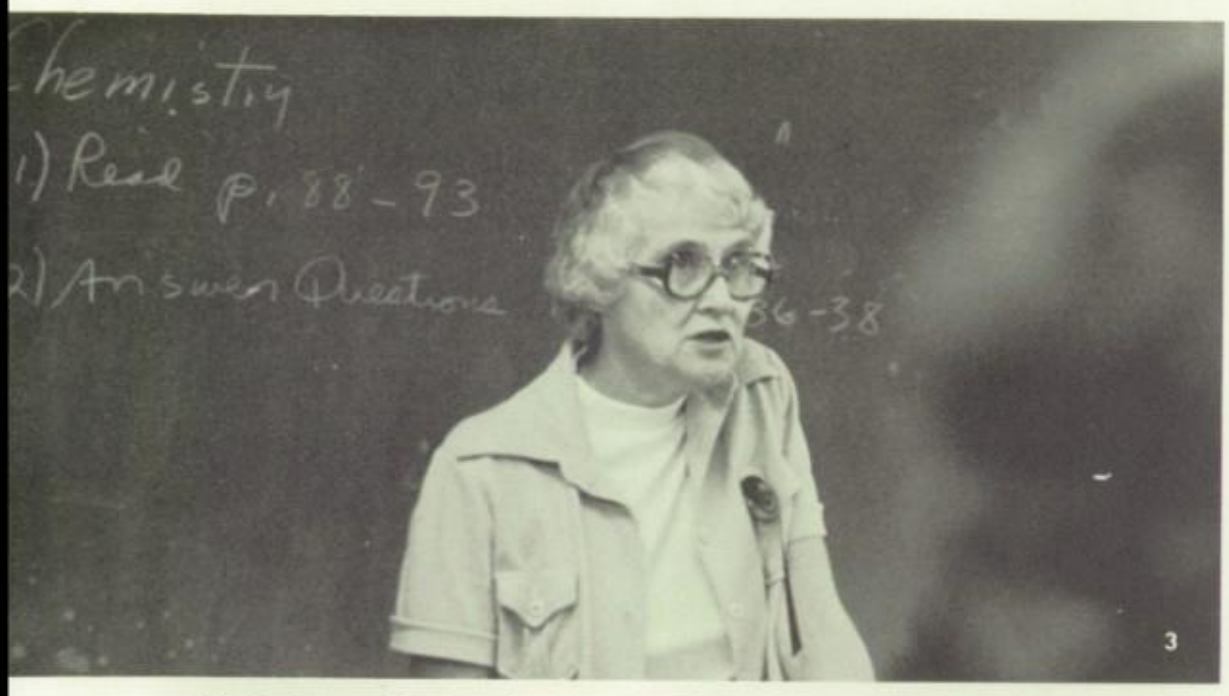
Bill LaCour

"A student illustrates school spirit by actively supporting all school teams and following school rules in curricular and extracurricular situations."

Mary Hughes

"A student illustrates school spirit through: 'S'upport of school sponsored events, 'P'ride in his accomplishments and those of others, 'I'nvolvement through being available, 'R'apport with fellow students and faculty, 'I'deas shared, and 'T'eam effort in all projects."

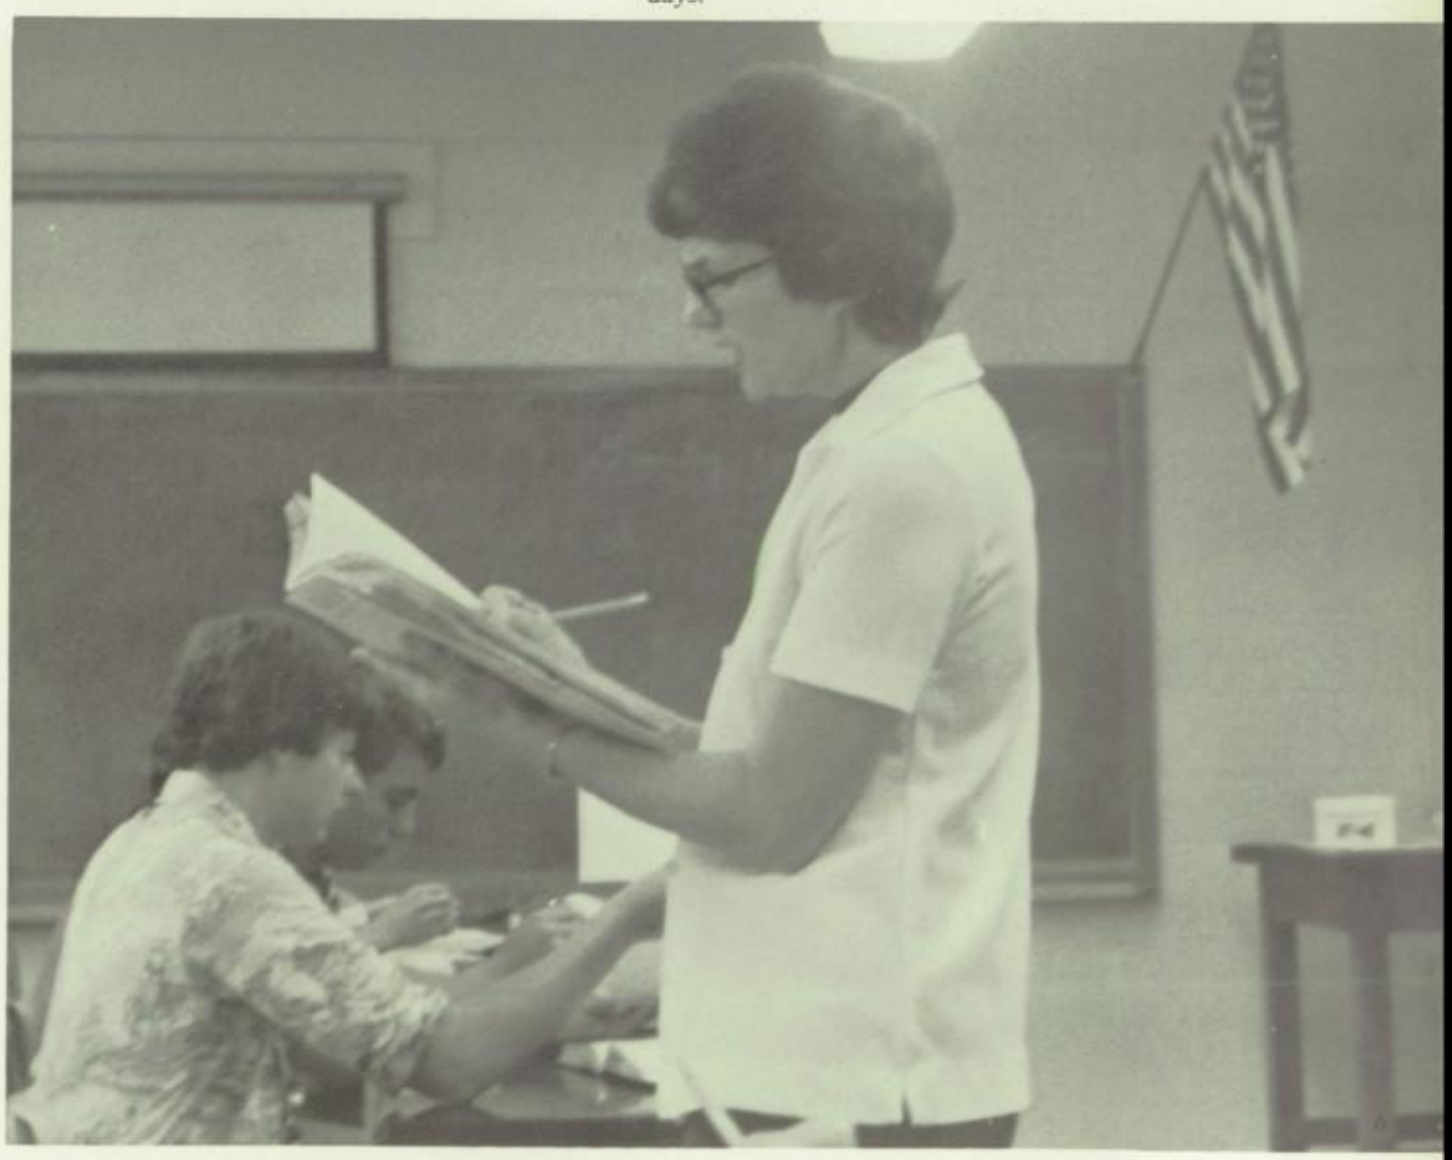
Margaret Jones



Ms. Hughes explains the assignment at the beginning of her Chemistry class.

Mrs. Morohovich glances over her lesson plan for the next few days.

Mr. LaCour casually walks to his next class.



Mrs. Jones reads off the correct answers to her class.

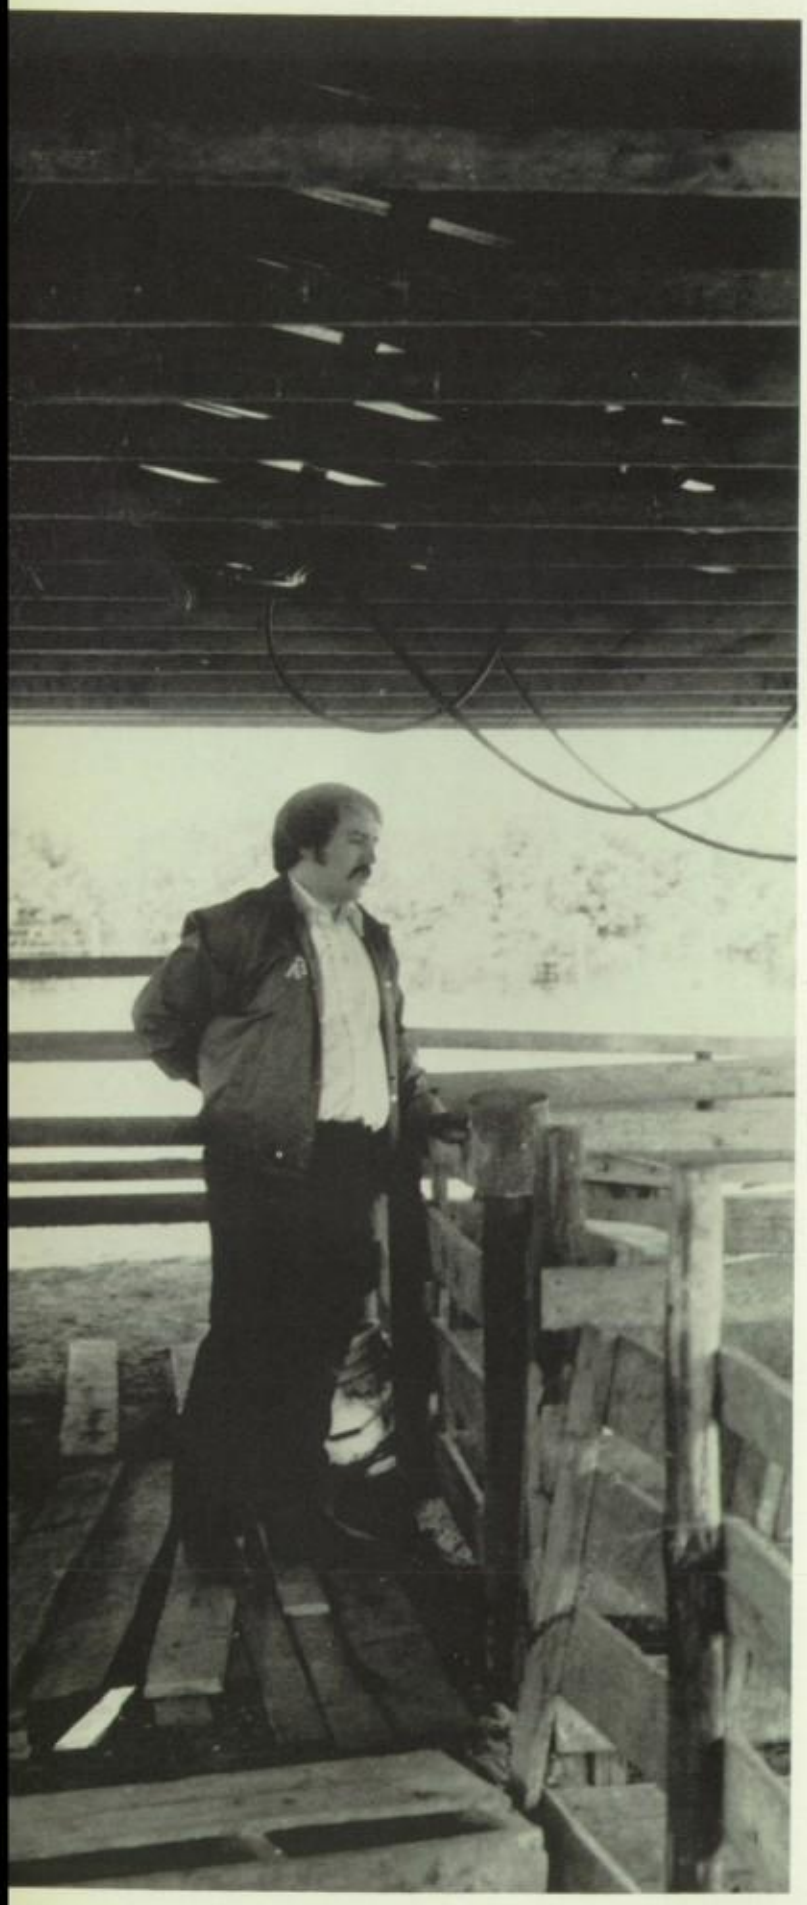
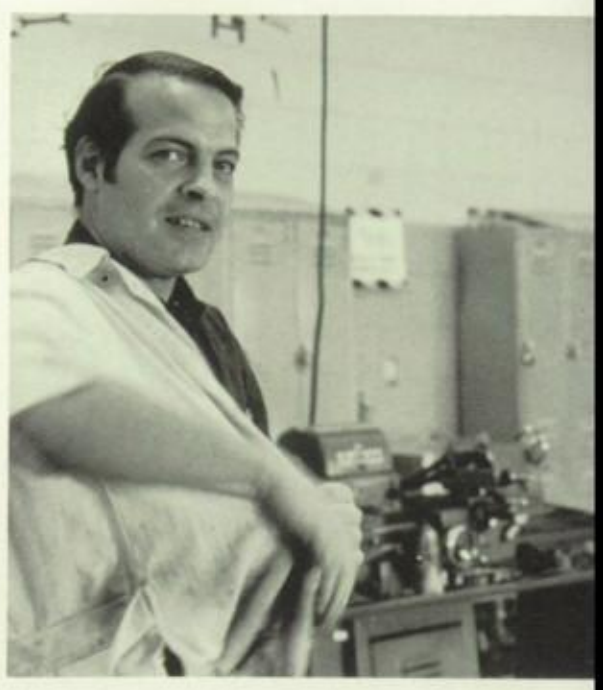
"School spirit goes beyond attending and supporting athletic events and participating in extracurricular clubs and activities. Each individual student is a part of his or her school and his total conduct, appearance, attitude, and achievement is a reflection of the student's 'true colors'."
Mike Conn

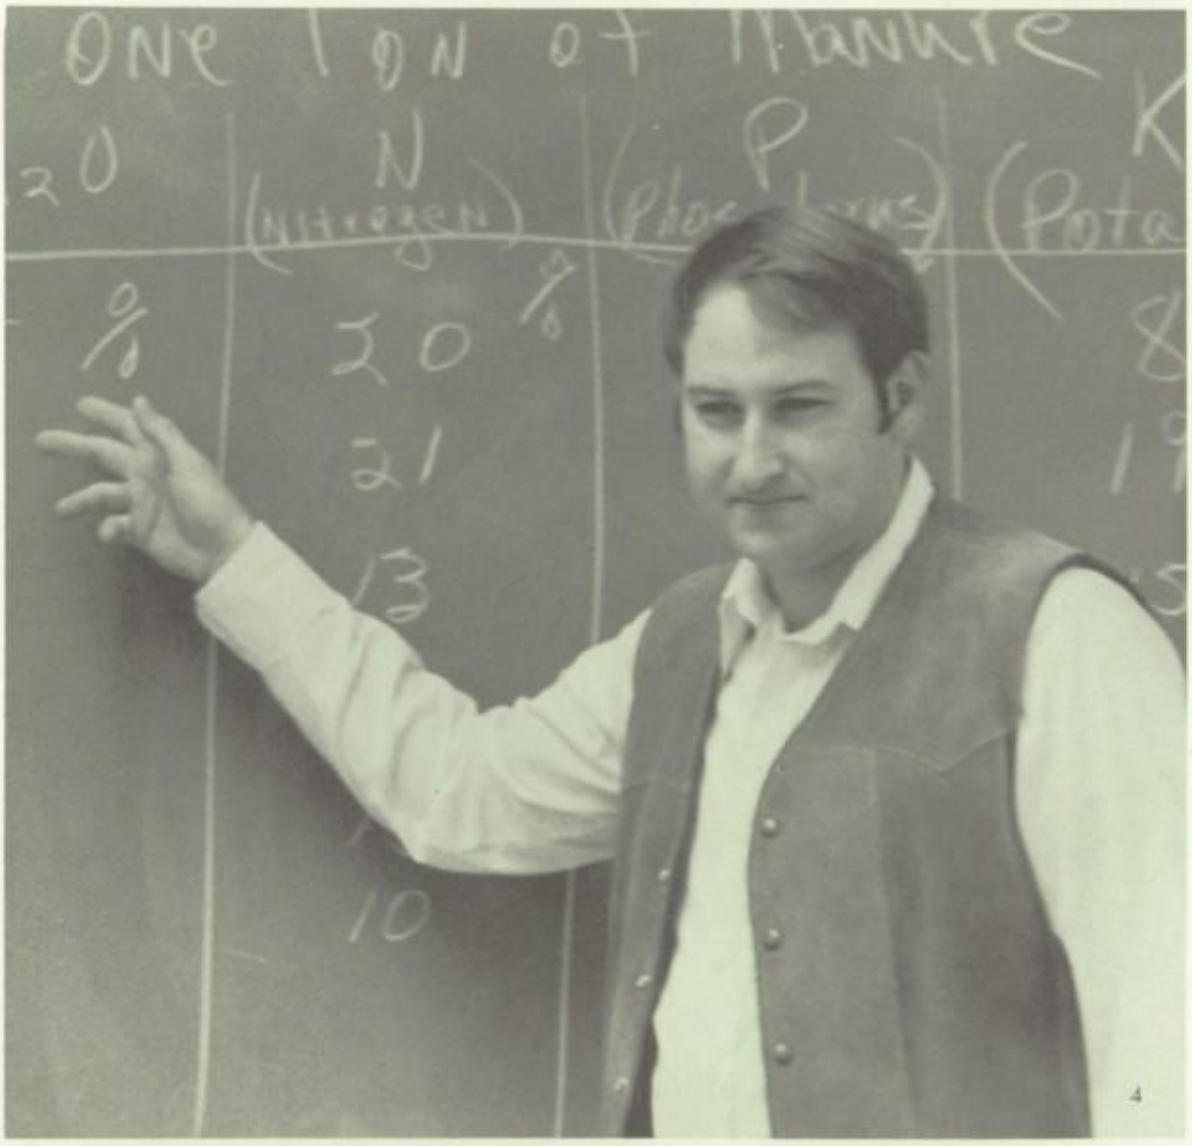


Mr. Combs checks the amount of feed for the livestock.



Mr. Mullins prepares to work on a project.

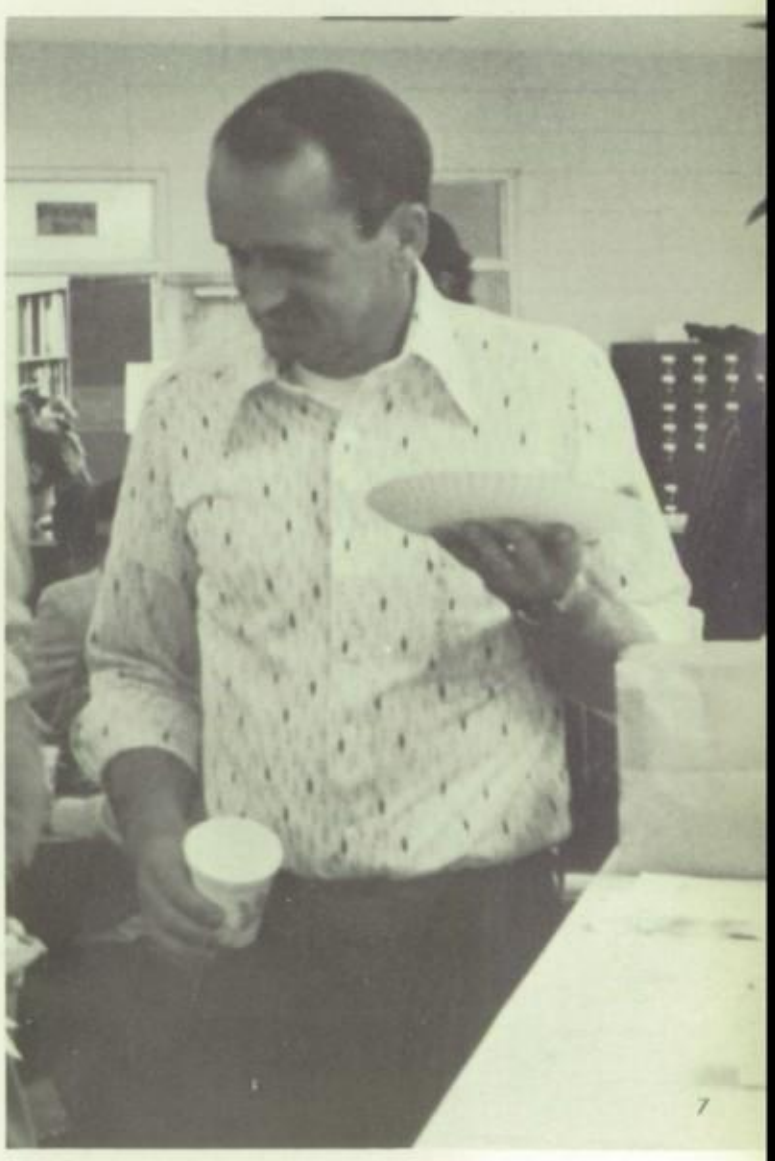
Mr. Conn often does extra research in the IMC.



Mr. Dillard gives the content and the importance of manure to his class.

Mr. Philmon gives his agriculture class some helpful hints on the subject.

Mr. Lane demonstrates the proper method.



Mr. Luce was one of the many teachers to attend the faculty Christmas party in the IMC.

"A student illustrates school spirit by active participation in clubs' activities, attending and supporting school functions, and general respect and care of school property and surroundings. Standards of morality, integrity, good conduct, and good sportsmanship are recognized and maintained because the student realizes his actions, individually and collectively, reflect upon his school. A student shows school spirit because there is genuine love, respect and devotion to every aspect of school life — academic as well as non-academic."

Louise Gilbert

"I feel that for the most part, the students at PCHS lack school spirit. Most of them do not become involved in the extra curricular activities because they would rather be out having a good time. To these students, attending school functions is only an extension of the school day and they do not wish to spend any more time at school than absolutely necessary."

Paul Lewis

"Students display school spirit by becoming actively involved in school activities whether it is something they are sponsoring or something another group is sponsoring."

Janet Ricci

Mrs. Gilbert counts the number of words typed per minute.

Mr. Lewis is prepared for the cold weather.

For some reason Mrs. Ricci just can not keep her mind on selling tickets.

"I feel that students illustrate school spirit by taking part in pep rallies, attending school functions (not only athletic events), and assisting the faculty, administration, and community when called upon!"

Martha Walker

"School spirit is demonstrated by students when they become involved in the activities of the school whether it is a project they have planned or participating in an activity some other group has organized. Supporting each other in clubs, sports, or elections demonstrates school spirit."

Joan Pryor

Mrs. Walker is irritated with the ref's poor call.

Ms. Pedry is either a track star or a great model for sportswear.

It seems as though Joan Pryor is always behind a typewriter.

"A student can illustrate school spirit by supporting the school's social activities such as athletic events and dances. But spirit can truly be demonstrated in quieter fashion by the student taking a sincere interest and pride in the events and happenings of a regular school day."

Joanne Anderson

"School spirit is showing enthusiasm and love for one's school. It's that intangible feeling of warmth and affection in our lives both at school and away. It's pride when we're doing well and courage to try again when we're down and out. Spirit is vigor, power, force, boldness, agility, energy, devotion, and loyalty. By far the best thing about spirit is that it is contagious and has the power of unification any time, any place, and under almost any circumstances. Here at Pasco, 'we've got the spirit'!"

ACTIVITIES . . . .

What Is a Cheerleader?

A cheerleader works hard and hurts just like any athlete. Being a cheerleader involves yelling for a team and putting on pep rallies. It also means getting shin splints from jumping on asphalt track, keeping that chin up in the bitter face of defeat as well as helping a team lose and win WITH PRIDE. Being a cheerleader consists of far more than having a loud voice, flashy pompoms and oxfords. It means having stamina, pride and willingness to sacrifice one's own individual time for something more important — THE PASCO PIRATES. It is a cheerleader's job to be a channel from the students to the team. Why does she do it? She loves it! What is her reward? It is the satisfaction of knowing that she is always there to cheer for her team!

Band of Pirates

Each member of the Band of Pirates is a complete individual working hard to be the best. To make it all work each individual must forget about himself and work together as one. They cannot be the trumpet player, flute player or drummer — they must be the Band.

This was proven to all as we welcomed Mr. Preston E. Pate to PCHS and he brought forth a new set of goals.

Officers

NHS

The main objective of the NHS is to recognize our school's most outstanding students. Although a high GPA is the initial requirement, many facets of the student's personality are evaluated. Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Merit are the four areas which are examined.

The NHS student gives his all to his schoolwork, despite his many other activities. He is an active participant of other clubs, and is often a school leader. He has proven himself both in the classroom and in his dealings with others. He certainly deserves a pat on the back! That is the role the NHS plays. We hope we have shown each NHS member our appreciation of his abilities and his accomplishments.

The 1977-1978 year has been a successful one for our NHS chapter, and we wish the best of luck to all future NHS chapters at PCHS.

The Cooperative Business Education program is one which provides opportunities for students to select, enter, and progress in learning a vocation of their choice. The students go to school in the morning and work in the afternoon in an actual business situation. They have all taken a variety of business classes and are employed by firms in the Dade City area.

Through this program, the CBE students gain exceptional knowledge and experience in the business field.

The Dade City Kiwanis Club is the parent club and club sponsor of Key Club, which has a goal of reaching out to help people.

From the beginning of its expansion of the original eight members, it was agreed that the club should include people from all walks of life.

It was announced to the student body that new members would be accepted into the club. The original eight members also sought out people who were interested in joining.

The Key Club, as a result of these actions is strong in membership and willpower. It will take some time for the resurrected Key Club to get on into full swing, although it is well on its feet.

The Key Club, as a respected club should continue as a strong body at PCHS.

Being on Student Council at PCHS involves many things. A great deal of hard work and cooperation is required if activities are to be successful. It is important to get along with fellow workers, and to have the enthusiasm to get things done.

This year the Student Council had activities ranging from dances to a dog show. We were original in our thoughts and ideas, yet traditional as far as hard work and spirit were concerned.

Serving the student body is a major concern of the Student Council and because of many hours of work and fun, this goal was accomplished.

Interact

Interact is a worldwide Rotary sponsored organization of young men and women dedicated to service and international understanding. From its beginning in 1962, Interact has spread rapidly to more than 3,000 clubs in 70 countries and has more than 70,000 members worldwide.

The P.C.H.S. Interact club is the largest service organization of its kind at P.C.H.S. This year's club consists of 45 members whose main goal is to provide service for others. Among our many completed projects for this year were the cleaning and painting of the Dade City Chamber of Commerce building, our fair display booth for the Pasco Mental Health Service, the annual Rotary vs. Interact softball and basketball games, and our participation in Rotary Radio Day. We also attended our 1st state convention in several years.

Thanks to the help of our sponsors, the Rotary Club of Dade City and Hal McGregor and also the P.C.H.S. staff and people of our community we have once again excelled as the finest service club at P.C.H.S.

Foreign Exchange Students

Holland

P.C.H.S. was fortunate to have Berend Verdam as one of our Foreign Exchange students this year. Berend Verdam is a native of Holland. He characterized his country to us by wearing wooden shoes. All will long remember Berand Verdam's unique personality as well as his ability to draw us close to him. His wooden shoes will remain within us as Berend Verdam's gift to our school. Yet, more importantly, Berend Verdam has captured a place in our hearts.

Anna Kayama has been our "new friend" from Japan. Her warmth and gentility captured the hearts of all. Although spaghetti is her favorite food, love is our favorite word to describe how we feel toward Anna.

DCT

The D.C.T. program gives students the opportunity to go to school in the morning and work in the afternoon; earning money and a school credit. This is the main objective of the Diversified Cooperative Training Program.

In class, students learn skills related to their jobs. The club provides for both social and civic activities. This year's activities included football sales, bake sales, car washes, and the sale of Christmas trees with the Dade City Jaycees.

Other activities includes a Christmas breakfast at a student's house; and breakfasts at different local restaurants. We also ate $50.00 worth of pizza at the Pizza Hut, had a Bonfire, district meetings and contest in Ocala, and the Annual Employer-Employee Banquet.

Throughout the year, FBLA has been very active in various school activities, as well as activities throughout the community.

Some of our activities include our annual banquet, homecoming float contests, District Rally, parties, March of Dimes, FBLA Week, Hee Haw, meetings, guest speakers, initiation, Almost Anything Goes, and other school and community functions.

Though all these activities took a lot of hard work, time, and effort, the end results were rewarding.

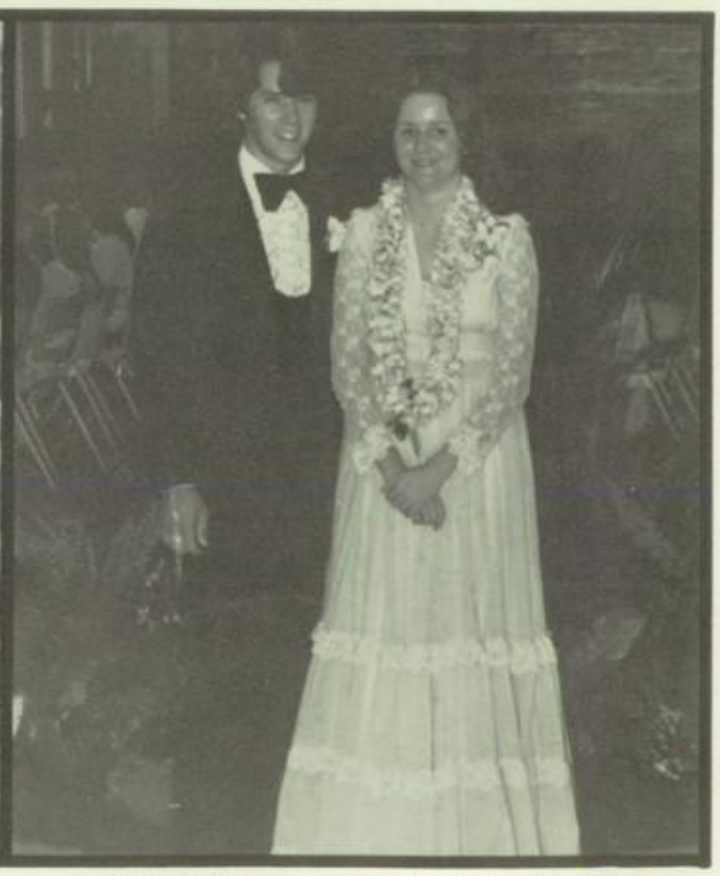
PROM '78

"An Evening in Paradise."

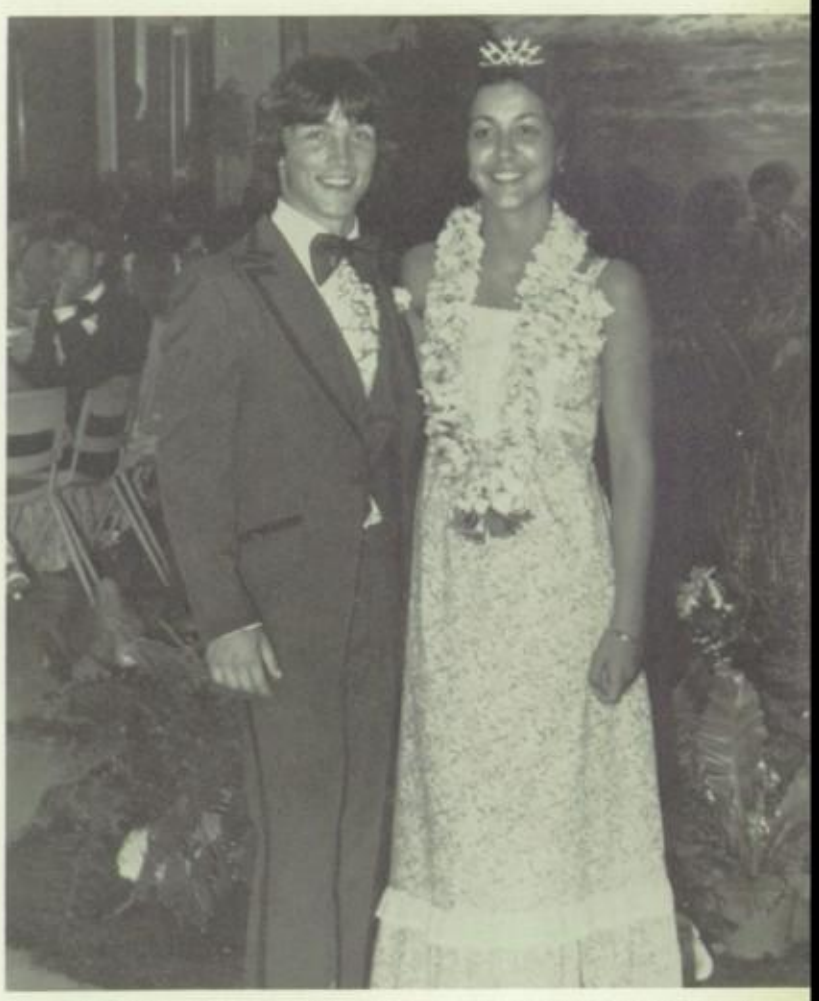
The Junior Class of 1979 worked hard to put on Prom '78.

First Court, Scott Lynch and Harriet McClain.



Second Court, Kieth Clark and Laura Harris.

Haley Brock, president of Junior Class shares in the excitement of the evening.



The 1978 Prom King and Queen . . . Scott McClelland and Chrissy McLoone.

A Fantasy Island dream comes true for Robin Edwards and Roy McAllister.

The 1978 Prom was one that will always be remembered for the tropical setting and creativity put forth by the Junior Class. The Class of '79 worked hard, and many hours went into the preparation of our Prom for the class of 1978. May 13, 1978 was the night for which all had long awaited. Everybody that attended would agree Prom '78 was a memorable event. The band, "Southwind," filled the evening with "boogie beats." And as the night concluded, the question was asked, "Do You Know Where You're Going To . . . Do You Like The Things That, Life Is Showing You?" The refrain from the theme song haunts our minds still. Our Prom gave us a real glimpse into the "Paradise" we will continue to find.

Surprised Spirit!!!

Harriet and Scott

This year's homecoming was not merely a football team returning home, but the culmination of the pride and loyalty that the students felt for its school and team. To say spirit was high during homecoming is an understatement. For the first time, the students all felt one thing for their team. PRIDE. During homecoming week, spirit was not only a word used to describe enthusiasm but it was a feeling inside each student, a certain undefinable something in the air. The crowd at the game felt this as they lined up on the field as well as when the football team came out. Shouts were heard everywhere!

This year's dance was the finish to a perfect week. Pasco had its Homecoming Queen and the band was a hit. Homecoming was the result of PCHS's love for its team and students.

Our Homecoming court was a well chosen one.

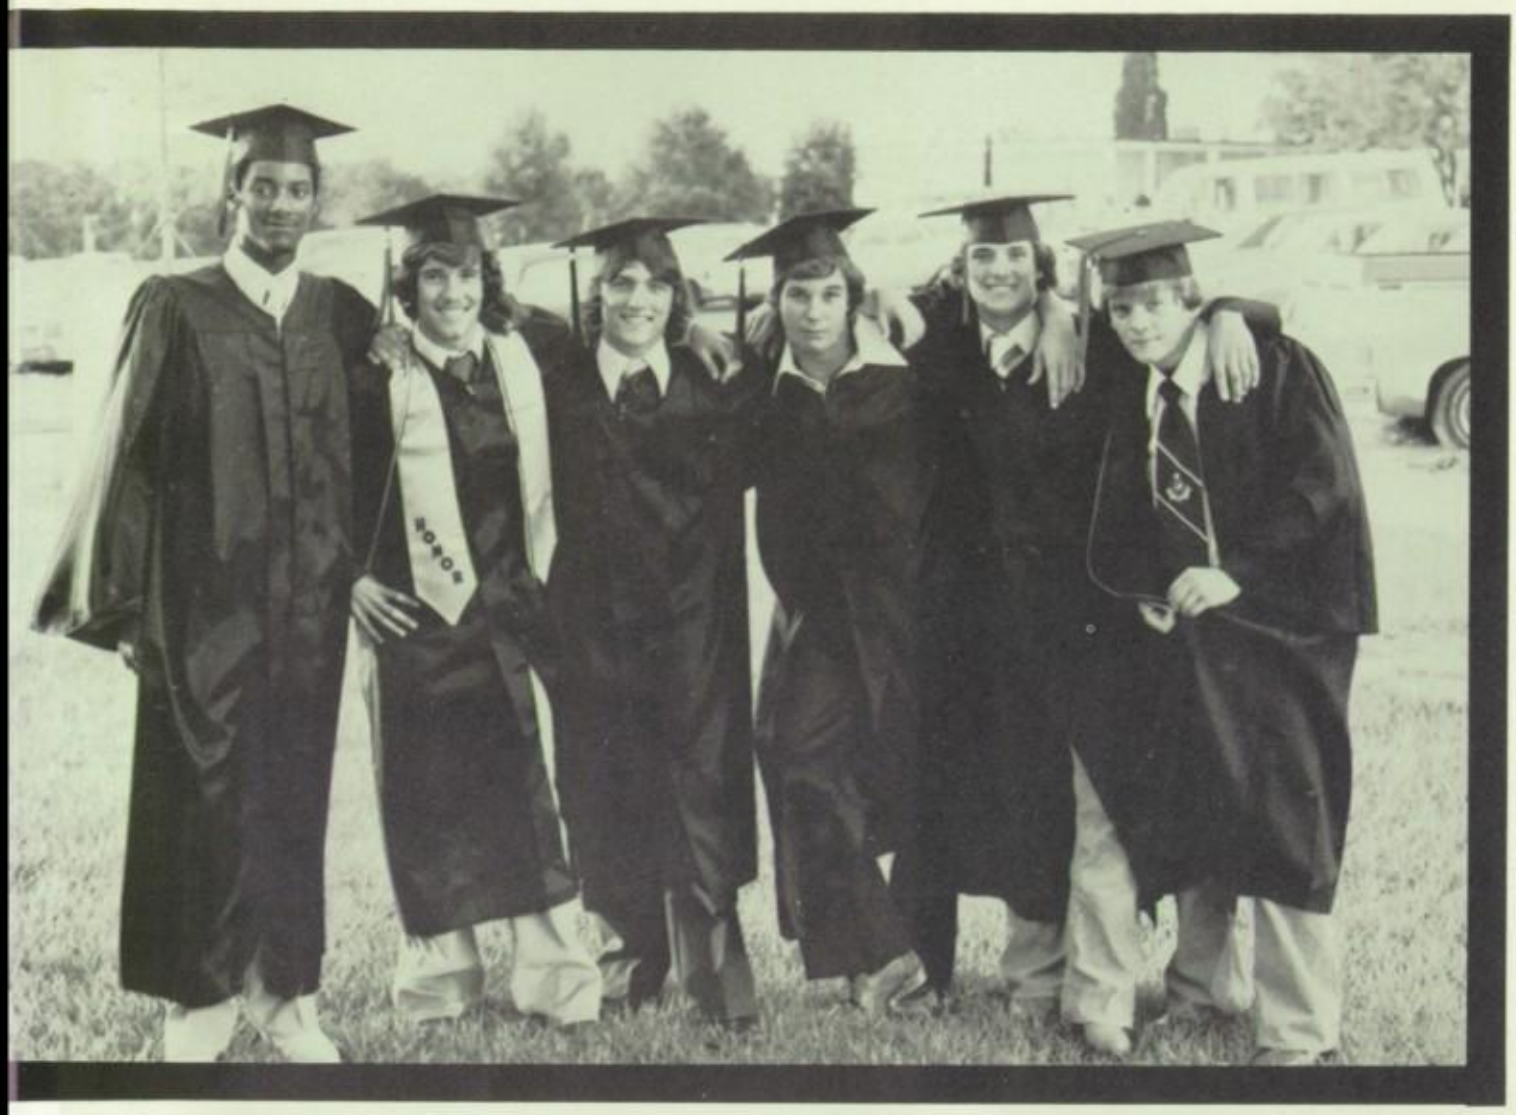
Spirit . . .

The Word Conjures Up So Many Memories; Feelings and Experiences. The Gathering of the Student Body at Student Appreciation Day Seems the Best Example of This Word, "Spirit." We Observed and Marveled at Our Clubs, Our Students, Our Student Government.



All Were Present. All Were Alive.
All Were Spirited. Everyone Played
A Single Game From A Dance,
String Band Concerts, a Legs Contest to
A Dunking Booth! The Game Was Sharing.
The Game Was Us. The Game Was Spirit!

"Spirit's Solemn Salute."

Final Spirit

The Last Ritual Which a School Can Offer Up to Spirit Is the Passing Into Maturity of Our Senior Class. Baccalaureate Begins Our Solemn Tribute to Our Best, Our Number One Class, Our Seniors of 1978. Their Steps Were Slow; Their Thoughts, a Mixture of the Past, Present and Future. Words Were Said. Glances Were Met With Tears. Our Spirit Led Us to This Moment.

The Underclassmen Looked On With Pride and Silent Awe. They Too Will One Day Receive This Honor Only Spirit Can Give.

This Book Is Completed. Contained in It Are Our Days of Dedication, Triumph, Companionship, Learning and Achieving. Our Spirit Is Captured for a Moment Here, in This Book. Yet, the True Spirit Given to Us From Each Other at This School Will Continue Because We Cared So Much, Because of This One Word, "Spirit."
